

New to our collection this year are tall clocks, individually hand-made in England. They are authentic and exacting replicas of early English or American floor clocks. These pieces have a hand-rubbed finish which is meant to age the clock several hundreds of years.

The dials are hand painted with beautiful bright colors and gold leafing. All of the brass fixtures are made by hand and engraved with individual care. The hands, latches, hinges, and even the door key are unlikely to be found on any factory-built clock. Several case styles are available.
